

Recommended Reading List

HOW TO RAISE AN AMAZING CHILD

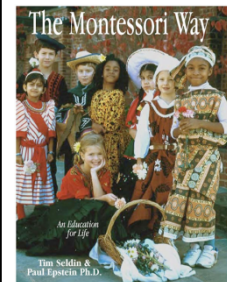

By Tim Seldin

“one of those rare books (in a field assailed with drivel) which every person involved with early childhood development would do well to get their hands on. It attempts to take a philosophy and method which, despite a century of unparalleled accomplishment, has remained obscure in the eyes of the public and make it not only accessible but also practicable in the home of every parent who cares enough to listen. In the reviewer’s opinion the author and publisher succeed admirably. At the very least Tim Seldin has created a highly practical handbook that is both child-friendly and parent-friendly.” – Matthew Rich

THE MONTESSORI WAY

By Tim Seldin & Dr. Paul Epstein PhD

“The wealth of color photographs and magazine-article style chapters make the content accessible to the layman while providing detailed information for students of education or staff of Montessori schools. The first section gives an overview of the approach, covering those aspects which define good practice in Montessori schools. The second section examines and explains the concept of “Planes of Development”, clearly outlining how the different stages require a different style of education and how the prepared environments cater for the various age groups. The last two sections answer many questions parents raise regarding the benefits of Montessori for their children, and give valuable guidelines on choosing a school.” -Sharon Caldwell

THE PINK WHAT!

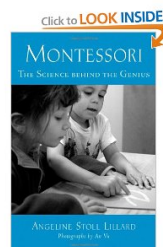

“This book is designed to be an outline of the educational materials found in every Montessori classroom to give the reader an understanding of the daily activities children experience in a Montessori program. The description of each material is short and concise with rudimentary illustrations to give a quick reference point in the map of the Montessori curriculum. The 50 page spiral bound book is organized by curriculum area and has an alphabetized index of the materials for easy reference. The information contained in this handy guide is a beginning point and an overview for people wanting to know more about the Montessori classroom for ages 3 to 6.” www.thepinkwhat.com

CHILDREN OF THE UNIVERSE: COSMIC EDUCATION IN THE MONTESSORI ELEMENTARY CLASSROOM by Michael and D’Neil Duffy

“This is a great book for elementary Montessori teachers, or others (parents, administrators, non-Montessori educators) who want to understand the HEART of the elementary Montessori curriculum.” -Jennifer Young

A PARENT'S GIUDE TO THE MONTESSORI CLASSROOM by Aline D. Wolf

MONTESSORI: THE SCIENCE BEHIND THE GENIUS By Angeline Stoll Lillard